Inter-Circ: The International Circumcision Forum

is a volunteer-run pro-circumcision group. The purpose of the group is to make known the benefits of circumcision, to discuss topical issues related to the subject and to offer advice both pre- and post-circumcision.

The Inter-Circ forum has recently moved from Yahoo! Groups and is now located at: <https://groups.io/g/inter-circ>

Disclaimer

Whilst every effort has been made to ensure the accuracy of the information contained within Inter-Circ publications, they are intended as a guide only and not as a source of complete or totally indisputable information.

The publications listed herein do not constitute 'medical advice' and are not intended as a substitute for the advice of your medical practitioner.

Introduction

The Inter-Circ web site (<https://groups.io/g/inter-circ>) includes a Files section. Whilst some of the files have been placed there by members, the majority have been specially written by the Inter-Circ Moderation team and represent the official views of Inter-Circ as well as having all been checked for medical accuracy by an experienced doctor of medicine.

This catalogue lists these so that members can readily identify and find these official publications.

We also act as a distributor for some separate publications of The Circumcision Helpdesk™ (which are identified as such on the relevant file folders), over which we have no editorial control. They also distribute our publications.

All publications are initially written in English. Many are also available in Spanish, although often only in an earlier version. They are all presented on-line as Adobe PDF files so that they can be read on any computer without costly proprietary software.

There are two versions of each publication:

The one with _web in its title is in a page-by-page sequence designed for reading directly on-line or downloaded to read on a computer/tablet/phone.

The one with _print in its title has the pages arranged in the proper pairs to enable double-sided printing on A4 paper and then folding into an A5-size booklet. (These will also scale for printing on US Letter paper.)

Please ensure that you download the correct version for your method of reading.

A Boy's Guide to His Own Care for a New Circumcision

A guide especially for parents to give to their newly circumcised 9-12 year old sons

Many boys, especially those over 9, are quite capable of doing some of their own after-care and parents should encourage them to do so whenever possible.

This booklet (which is based on the full Parent's Care Guide listed above) aims to explain in simple terms what he should do, and what to look out for, after his circumcision.

It is only intended for parents to give a copy of this booklet to their son if they believe he is capable of assisting with his own circumcision after-care. It is not intended for boys to read without parental agreement.

Now in its 3rd edition.

Available in English only (20 pages).

Future Publications

It is expected that more official publications will be written and uploaded in the future.

When uploaded to the Files section, they will be advertised to all Inter-Circ Forum members by means of an automatic message in the Discussion group, as will significant updates to existing publications.

We would welcome any corrections or relevant additions to our publications as well as suggestions for future topics.
